

FEEDBACK on RCI-MUN ISTANBUL 2013

Why was it worth participating to the RCIMUN? List 3 reasons and explain

- 1 learn to interact with people from all over the world
- 2 learn to reflect on crucial issues of international politics
- 3 learn to discuss and support my ideas in English

What were the drawbacks of RCIMUN 2013? List them and explain

- 1 unable to speak English fluently as other participants
- 2 unfamiliar with the rules of formal debate at the beginning
- 3 too long conferences with loss of attention from delegates

Were Istanbul and Robert college good locations for RCIMUN? Yes/no, why?

Robert College was a beautiful place. The college had everything we needed for the conference, and it was very well organized, but it was too far from our hotel, so we had no time to rest.

Would you recommend this experience to others? Why?/Why not?

Absolutely. It was one of the most significant experiences of my life. I learnt to speak in public, I made many friends and I established new relationships with teenagers from all over the world. I realised that English is fundamental in today's society.

Was the preparation to RCIMUN effective? Mention cooperation with FRI.SA.LI schools,too.

The preparation was quite good, but tasks are so complex that more MUN experiences are needed before mastering the art of diplomacy and peaceful conflict resolutions.

If RCIMUN has been a significant experience in your life, define your new attitude to English, foreign policy, cooperative work, life projects.

We learnt how to work in groups and to assert our ideas on topical issues. We discovered the charm of travelling to meet new people, to ban prejudices from our lives, to gain new insights of reality, to develop as human beings. To master other languages apart from our mother tongue is the first requisite to live a full life, to open up our universe a bit more.

Date 28-IV-2013

Signatures: Domenico Fulgieri, Eleonora Valvason, Irene Gurisatti